

Feature

Dancing the Night Away

Makayla Hagerty
Reporter

1.

2.

1. Mariah Byrnes and Dylan Olsen pose before their night of fun.

Photo Courtesy of Mariah Byrnes

2. Emily Gutzman, Julia Starr, Makenzie Brundage, Dakota Ballard, Dani Miller, and Maddie Angst pose for their funny picture before the dance.

Photo Courtesy of Makenzie Brundage

3. The Freshmen, Sophomore, and Junior representatives pose for a picture during half time of the homecoming game

Photo Courtesy of Max Kibzey

3.

On September 21st the Laingsburg High School students had the chance to go to the homecoming dance. The girls spent hours upon hours getting ready for this big night. For some this is their very first homecoming dance and for others this is their last homecoming dance. At LHS one tradition is announcing the homecoming king and queen at the game which is the night before the dance. The homecoming king was Jacob Dafoe and the queen was Myia Danek.

“When they announced my name I was happy and I was proud of the other guys that were with me, senior Jacob Dafoe stated.”

With this being the seniors very last homecoming dance it was probably a little emotional for some of the seniors knowing this is their last homecoming.

“I’m sad that was my last homecoming because they are a very fun and special times you can’t replace, senior Colt Wurm said.”

Many of the students chose to spend their night with dates or with a fun group of friends. Spending this quality time with one another made this a spectacular night to remember. While most highschools classes and long hours spent studying will be forgotten, it’s nights like this that will be retold to their children and reminisce about the years to come.

“The dance on Saturday night was so incredibly lit and I probably should’ve brought my inhaler it was that lit, sophomore Alexa weathers said.”

Ready... Set... Create!

Hailey Hagerty
Reporter

For the past years students at Laingsburg High School have been decorating the hall for homecoming week. Over the years the school has had many interesting themes but this year the theme was video games. Students at Laingsburg High School began homecoming week by decorating the halls.

On Saturday September 14th, volunteers of the student body arrived at the school to decorate the halls using this years theme. Undergraduates decorate the halls to get the school prepared for the upcoming week. Students brighten up the school using paper and glue.

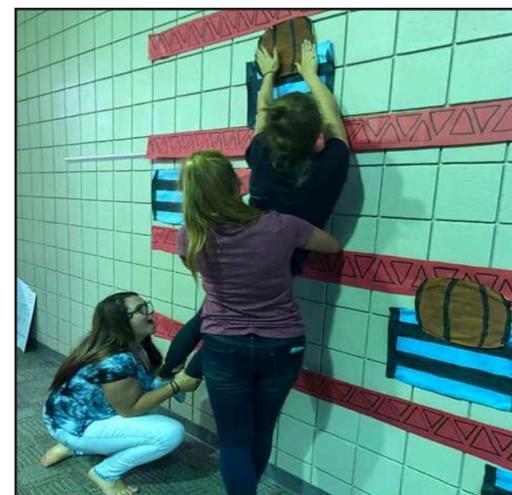

“I love decorating the halls! I look forward to it every year. It’s a fun and creative part of homecoming,” senior Kindi Dietz said.

By starting homecoming week with decorating hallways the students get fired up about the weeks theme and how to show off their school spirit.

“I think everyone enjoys coming into school on the first day of spirit week, and seeing the halls all decorated. It’s a nice surprise and sets the tone for the theme of the week. It adds to the excitement and general school spirit,” Dietz said.

As you walked through the halls you could see the different video game generations expressed throughout the halls.

“The games theme this year was easy to decorate and cool to work on. I think the halls turned out great! I hope everyone enjoys them because we put a lot of hard work into it,” Dietz said.

A group of cheerleaders prepare the school for homecoming week.

Photo Courtesy of Alexa Weathers